Why AIG

Product Creativity and Flexibility	Multinational Capabilities	Risk Consulting and Claims Expertise
ISSUE A government contractor required a cyber product to sit alongside their marine shipbuilding exposures. SOLUTION AIG Marine Liability worked closely with the AIG cyber team to customize a program to address the client's exposure, fill in the gaps around coverages and provide a solution that other carriers could not offer. BENEFIT Collaboration among the client, broker and AIG Marine Liability team resulted in the contractor receiving the tailored coverages it needed.	ISSUE A marine terminal client recently acquired a company with assets located in the U.S. and Canada, which required local coverage in both countries. SOLUTION AIG deployed local admitted coverage that covered various layers in the client's liability tower. BENEFIT AIG's global network was there to quickly provide the client with local underwriting expertise and market leading capacity.	ISSUE A Marine Liability client needed to benchmark their risk and safety procedures against their peers. SOLUTION AIG Marine Loss Control Engineering (MLCE) conducted a tabletop exercise and onsite review of the insured's operations to assess against best practices. BENEFIT MLCE collaborated with the client to create and implement a prescriptive risk management program.
WHY IS THIS IMPORTANT? AIG Marine Liability's full spectrum of product capabilities and expertise enable client solutions.	WHY IS THIS IMPORTANT? AIG's expansive network and local knowledge helps Marine Liability clients get their multinational risks covered.	WHY IS THIS IMPORTANT? AIG Marine Loss Control Engineering helps clients put proper risk control procedures in place to protect insured assets.
